Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 1761

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-36 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yotka (5,536,511, cols. 4-7) in view of McGrew et al (5,336,509).

Applicant is referred to the reasoning set forth in paragraph No. 3, Paper No. 7.

3. Applicant's arguments filed May 5, 2003 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. Applicant's reference to the use of waxes by Yotka ~~et al~~ is not convincing set Yotka ~~et al~~ neither requires that waxes be present nor discloses that waxes are essential and since applicant only claims a wax-free product in claim 8. Moreover, none of Yotka's ~~et al~~ examples use any waxes. As a result it would have been obvious to eliminate any wax with its function if it was present in Yotka's ~~et al~~ gum product, if a wax-free gum product is desired.

The disadvantages of using wax in chewing gum products as discussed in McGrew et al (col. 1, lines 23-29) and referenced by applicant occurs in the background section of McGrew et al and only applies to gum products sold in the United Kingdom. Although McGrew et al may prefer to produce wax-free products, the products could be substantially wax-free (col. 2, line 47), thereby permitting the presence of small amounts of wax. Nevertheless, since wax is not essential to the gum products of Yotka, ~~et al~~

McGrew et al is properly combinable with Yarka, ~~et al~~ despite applicant's contention to the contrary.

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
